A proposed one-page Parents Day Proclamation has been attached hereto for your convenience.

We feel something should and can be arranged to publicly commemorate this important holiday within the local area, such as holding a parade, fireworks, live music, or even just lemonade and cookies for a simple social. Other governmental officials are being asked to lend their support in the same manner. It is recommended to plan for a common celebration on the afternoon of that fourth Sunday in July, and again, we look forward to honoring your support for The American Parent with various photo opportunities, lots of happy faces, and etc., in appreciation. Thanks!
